President Spikes Move to Dump Secy. Benson

By RAYMOND LAHR United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower today spiked any move by Republican strategists to dump Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Tamm Benson as a "liability" in this election year.

The President told members of the Republican National Committee during a breakfast "pep talk" that he has complete confidence in each of his cabinet officers, thinks all are doing a "fine job," and has no intention of replacing any of them.

Eisenhower also made a strong defense of Benson's flexible price-support program, saying it is a "honest, forthright and sensible" attempt to solve the problem of surplus crops that have farmers caught in a "vicious circle."

"I think that most farmers," he said, "deep in their hearts, recognize the administration proposal as a courageous move to break this vicious circle."

The breakfast was held behind closed doors at a downtown hotel, but portions of the President's prepared text were published by the White House.

Cites Years of Prosperity

Eisenhower, in his formal remarks, called on Republicans to join in a 1938 campaign to win control of Congress by enlisting food candidates, showing faith in "our cause and working hard."

The President spoke shortly before leaving for Augusta, Ga., for a weekend of golf.

The President told his Republican audience, eager for a shot in the arm, that the nation has had five years of prosperity under his administration, a prosperity that has not been altered materially by the recent business decline.

Reiterating his belief that the tide will turn in mid-summer, the President denounced "political Cassandras" who warn of another depression—critics who heretofore have been labelled by CP leaders as the "prophets of gloom and doom."

All-Day Meeting

"A few political Cassandras," the President said, "pop up regularly to suggest that deep depression is just around the corner and only panicky governmental intervention on a massive scale can stem the disaster."

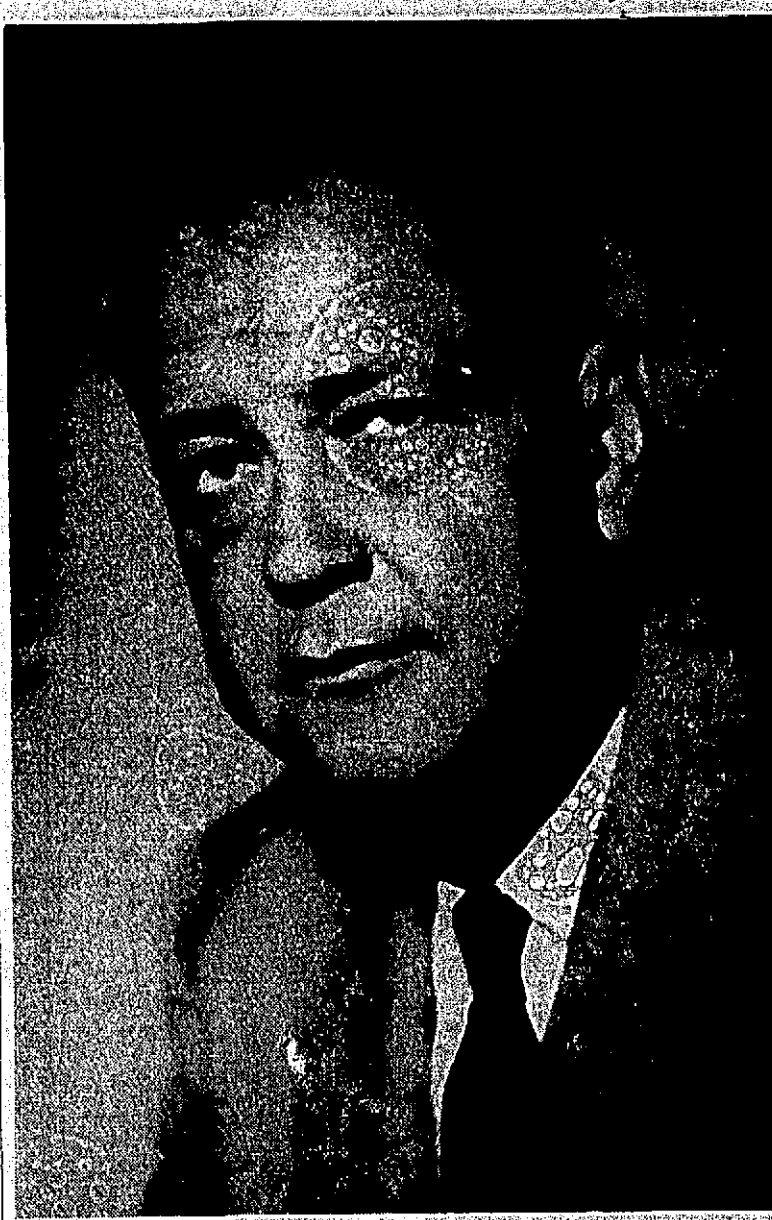

"We reject this pessimistic doctrine and the lack of confidence it reflects. Republicans have never sold American people enterprise short and never will."

Eisenhower noted that political prophets a few days ago were making mathematical calculations to show the odds are running against the Republicans in the November congressional elections.

"But," he said, "I have a different outlook. I am optimistic."

Temperatures Springlike in Arkansas

By UNITED PRESS

Temperatures in Arkansas reached springlike levels at midday, but were expected to be of short duration.

The mercury ranged from 50 at Fayetteville to 68 at El Dorado. The forecast said, however, that it will be colder tonight and Saturday, but warmer again Sunday.

It will be partly cloudy with a chance of a few showers this afternoon and early tonight and fair Saturday and Sunday.

Highs this afternoon will be in the 50's northward to 60's elsewhere in the state; lows tonight 20 to 28 north and 24 to 34 south, and highs Saturday 40 to 50.

The high in Arkansas, Thursday was 67 degrees at Camden, the low this morning 30 at Batesville.

The extended forecast—Friday through next Wednesday, said temperatures would average three to five degrees above the normal maximum of 53, and the normal minimum of 34. It will be warmer Sunday, colder next Monday followed by a warming trend. Precipitation for the period will be moderate to heavy in showers about Monday and Wednesday.

At 11 a. m. skies were clear at Texarkana, El Dorado and Pine Bluff, partly cloudy at Little Rock, Fort Smith and Fayetteville, and cloudy at Walnut Ridge, Pippin and Memphis. Tabernacle in Sunday School Contest

Hope Gospel Tabernacle is launching an all-out Sunday School attendance contest with the First Assembly of God Church at Batesville, Oklahoma, whose pastor is Rev. H. Paul Holdridge, according to Rev. W. C. Land.

Although the Batesville Assembly runs approximately 100 more per Sunday, the contest will be figured on a percentage basis governed on the average attendance for the first quarter of the 1937-38 Sunday School year, that is, October, November and December. The contest will run from February 2 to April 6. Easter Sunday inclusive. Each Sunday a telephone call will report the figure and an announcement will be made to the local congregation at the close of the Sunday School session.

The local Tabernacle has a name for winning such ventures and is expected that a number of local citizens will respond in helping to exceed the Oklahoma group.

Says Integration Up to U. S., School

NEW ORLEANS (UP)—Mayor Werner C. Knoop of Little Rock said Thursday the city of Little Rock and Gov. Faubus have been "benched on the sidelines" in the school integration strife.

Knoop said the issue was now between the Little Rock school board and the federal government.

The mayor is here with his wife who is undergoing treatment at Ochsner Foundation Hospital.

"What happened in Little Rock could happen in any number of Southern cities," said Knoop, "and I don't believe there is any difference in the environment of the people, or the culture of Little Rock from any number of other American cities."

Youth Week Observance Closes Sunday

Closing emphasis of Youth Week, being carried on by youth of the various churches of Hope will be highlighted Sunday by a service for all youth, and for others who are interested at the Presbyterian Church.

Speakers for the service which is scheduled for 3 p. m. is Rev. W. C. Land of the Hope Gospel Tabernacle, who will speak on the subject, "Lord, Help Our Unbelief," which has been the theme for activities during the observance.

The worship service which has been planned by the committee will be participated in by various young people. A highlight of the service will be congregational singing, always a popular activity among youth. Luther Holloman, organist of the First Christian Church will be at the console.

Activities this week have included observance of youth week in several churches last Sunday morning devotionals led by the youth on KXAR, as well as devotionals on the theme over the public address system at the high school, a special assembly Monday featuring a message by Rev. William J. Fegelman of Little Rock, and special chapel assemblies on Wednesday and Friday.

One Hope high school student, David John Pearson has been invited to be the special Youth Week speaker at the Wright Avenue Christian Church of Little Rock on Sunday morning, February 2.

Persons buying vehicles after the deadline will not be subject to the penalties.

Work Orders Issued on 5 State Roads

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—The Arkansas Highway Department issued work orders Friday on five road projects in three counties at a total cost of $609,221.

Three of the five, costing $528,678, were for traffic interchanges and separations on Interstate 40 and 55 in Crittenden county. The largest single project, however, was for cellular structures on the Little Rock-North Little Rock expressway Arkansas River bridge.

The Little Rock job on Interstate 30 was awarded at the January meeting of the Highway Commission to the E. E. Barber Construction Co., Inc., of Fort Smith on a low bid of $225,616. The Crittenden county jobs were the highway 42 interchange, awarded to the Bluebonnet Construction Co. of Hazen on a bid of $163,932; the Club Road grade separation, awarded to J. H. Levee and Sons of Little Rock, on a bid of $194,877; and the Ingram Boulevard interchange, awarded to E. E. Barber on a bid of $109,870.

The fifth order was on a county road in Lonoke county. The contract for $84,826 went to Southeast Construction Co. Inc. of Pine Bluff.

Air Mechanics Quit Jobs in Florida

MIAMI (UP)—An estimated 1,200 Eastern Air Lines mechanics walked off their jobs unexpectedly today, apparently in a protest over bogged-down contract negotiations.

Eastern reported that its air service so far has not been affected. Eastern has 170 flights in and out of Miami each day, most of them between Miami and New York.

Eastern officials said no reason was given for the walkout and no picket lines were set up. The men, members of the International Association of Machinists, walked off their jobs and sat quietly in groups beside work benches and loading ramps.

A company spokesman termed the walkout "a direct violation" of the railway labor law and of the IAM contract. Members of other unions at Eastern's big maintenance base here remained on their jobs.

A spokesman said apparently all of the 1,200 morning shift members of the IAM were involved in the walkout.

Union officials could not be reached immediately for comment. It was not known whether the IAM sanctioned the walkout.

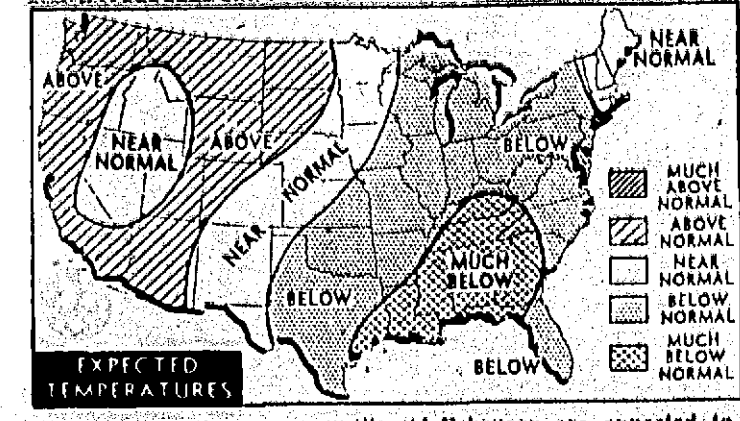

COSTLY CATCH

ATLANTA (UP)—Night watchman Emmett Beeks routed two nocturnal prowlers at gunpoint from a drive-in restaurant, but waited until the place opened next morning to report to police. He delayed phoning, he said, because he had no dime.

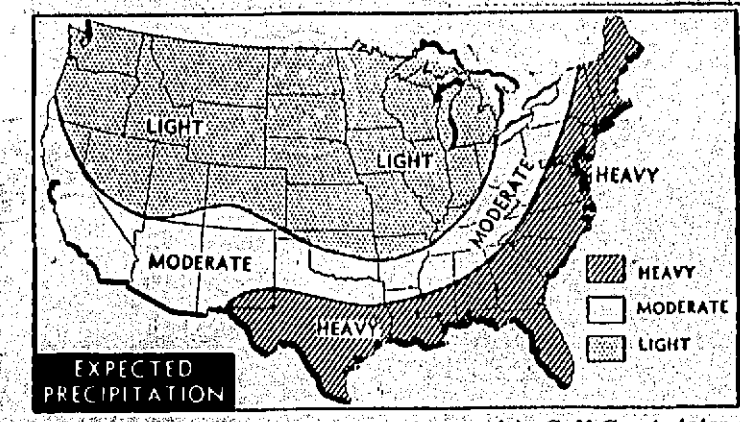

The following men will be inducted into the Armed Forces February 10: Allen Mulrow, Ralph Morton Jacques and James Hurlan Hollis.

John H. Norvell has joined the Hope Police force, announces Chief Jack Brown. Jerry Brown is now an employee of Herndon-Cornelius Funeral Home and Hope Furniture.

Ned Purdie officially spiked a report he would be a candidate for County Judge saying, "I definitely will not be a candidate and have no desire whatsoever to enter politics in any way."

Temperatures from now until mid-February are expected to average below seasonal normals over the eastern half of the nation, except for near normal in New England. Greatest departures are indicated in states bordering the Gulf of Mexico. Over the western half of the country near to above normal temperatures are expected to prevail.

Precipitation is predicted to exceed normal in Gulf Coast states and along the Atlantic seaboard with considerable snow from Virginia northward. Subnormal amounts are indicated over the northern half of the country from the Great Lakes westward to the Pacific Northwest. Near normal amounts are in prospect for other areas.

Second Missile Takes Plate at Testing Site

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UP)—A second Army missile took its place in a service tower beside the wind-grounded Jupiter C satellite launcher today. However, there still was no indication of an imminent firing.

Forecasters said that high altitude winds which could block any attempt to launch the Army Jupiter C, or the Navy Vanguard "moon" rocket should be repaired shortly, might continue over the Cape Canaveral test center for several days.

There was a deceptive calmness on the surface. Breezes were gentle and the sun was bright and warm.

The newly placed Army missile was visible through the morning mist in the taller of the two towers the Army used here.

There was no information as to its type but in the past the Army has tested the Redstone, which is the first stage of the Jupiter C, and the basic Jupiter. The Jupiter is a 1,500-mile intermediate range missile comparable to the Air Force Thor.

Judge Cummings to Seek Re-election

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—Circuit Judge Maupin Cummings of Fayetteville announced today he would seek another term as judge in the fourth judicial district. He filed his corrupt practices pledge with Secretary of State C. G. Hall.

The district is made up of Benton, Carroll, Madison and Washington counties. Cummings has held the office since 1947, according to Hall.

New Nuclear Tests Planned for Defenses

By JOSEPH L. MYLER United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Atomic Energy Commission said today new tests in the Pacific this year will advance nuclear defense against enemy interest in tactical ballistic missiles.

Earlier this week, on Tuesday, Maj. Gen. John P. Daly of the Army's special weapons branch told Congress Nike-Zeus antimissile missile bases could be established by 1952.

Meanwhile, the Air Force has said it will test nuclear explosion in space above the atmosphere to determine their effectiveness against enemy space missiles. Presumably such tests would mean detonation of missile-borne warheads high above the Eniwetok-Bikini proving grounds in the Pacific.

Advance Defense Weapons—In its 23rd semiannual report to Congress, the commission said that Pacific tests starting in April will advance the development of weapons for defense against aggression weather airborne, missile-borne, or otherwise mounted.

The AEC also announced a program to develop peaceful uses of atomic explosions, including "excavation." The commission believes nuclear blasts deep underground may be used to level mountain ranges and store energy. An underground shot in Nevada last year has been shown to have heated perhaps as much as 60 per cent of its energy in a form which can be tapped. The AEC is now drilling down to ward this pool of energy.

$1.2 Billion More for Missiles Voted by Senate Group

By UNITED PRESS

The Senate Appropriations Committee voted $1,200,000,000 in additional cash today for missiles and defense.

The House already has passed the measure, and the Senate is expected to follow suit early next week.

Other congressional news: Rackets: The Senate Rackets Committee said William M. Maloney, president of the Operating Engineers Union, keeps himself in limbo in the expense of Chicago Local 150. The committee said Maloney now has three Cadillac cars and an Imperial.

Custody: Chairman Lewis Strauss assured Congress this country will keep custody of U.S. nuclear warheads assigned to NATO. He gave the assurance in asking approval of a presidential request for authority to furnish atomic information and materials to Allied nations.

Autos: President Harlow II. Cutler of General Motors defended prices charged for new cars. He agreed to furnish to the Senate Antitrust subcommittee GM net profit figures before and after taxes on the auto and truck part of his company.

Farm: The National Farmers Union told a House Agriculture subcommittee it would support any measure the group drafts for bolstering farm income. The subcommittee is drafting a bill to support the prices of corn and other feed grains. Other subcommittees are working on proposals for other farm products as part of an all-inclusive bill. In the past the farmers Union has demanded supports at 90 per cent of parity.

Today's move, said the union, was designed to promote farm bloc harmony.

Check-out: Sen. John C. Stennis (D-Miss.) said Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy's space research authority should be kept in check for the time being.

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee was expected to approve today a $1,200,000,000 supplemental money bill to hasten defense efforts against the Soviet missile threat.

The committee was believed ready to okay the House-approved measure without making any changes as to funds.

Sen. John C. Stennis (D-Miss.) called for a limit on the powers of Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy in outer space research. He referred to a 10 million dollar item for setting up an "advanced research project agency" directly under McElroy in charge of research and development work on "satellites and other outer space projects."

Stennis said the Defense Department should be limited to military projects in outer space until Congress decides whether overall authority in the field should be given to a civilian agency.

A special House investigating subcommittee was expected to name today at least five Federal Communications Commissioners who have been charged with "personal misconduct." A secret subcommittee staff report has accused some FCC commissioners, whom it did not name, of accepting "color television sets and other favors from broadcasters."

Congressional observers said President Eisenhower has no chance of getting a five-year extension of the reciprocal trade program. Key legislators said he'll do well to get a three-year renewal, even though the President's term expires in 1961.

Meet Mr. A.B.C. — He Works for our Advertisers

He is one of the experienced circulation auditors on the staff of the Audit Bureau of Circulations. Just as a bank examiner makes a periodic check of the records of your bank—so does Mr. A.B.C. visit our office at regular intervals to make an exacting inspection and audit of our circulation records. The circulation facts thus obtained are condensed in easy-to-read audit reports which tell our advertisers: How much circulation we have; where it goes; how it was obtained; and many other FACTS that tell advertisers what they get for their money when they advertise in this newspaper.

Advertisers are invited to ask for a copy of our latest A.B.C. report.

The Audit Bureau of Circulations, of which this newspaper is a member, is a cooperative, nonprofit association of 3,572 advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers. Organized in 1914, A.B.C. brought order out of advertising chaos by establishing a standard for paid circulation rules and definitions for auditing and reporting the circulation of newspapers and periodicals.

mont. What counts is not necessarily the size of the dog in the fight—it's the size of the fight in the dog.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon was to give the GOP leaders a similar pep talk at a lunch meeting later today. Cabinet members were to submit to questioning at a closed morning session and other sparring leaders were to be heard on 1958 campaign problems in the afternoon.

The President said the Republicans have a "good cause" to present the voters "in the form of a proud record of past achievement and a lively, thorough, well-balanced program for the future."

Must Gain Senate Seat
The GOP, he said, must not let its story of progress be drowned by "dismal walls of despair" from demagogues like some of those heard in the past five years.

Army Declares 5000 Mile Red Missile Likely

By DAYTON MOORE

United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (P) — The Army said in testimony published today that Russia may have a 5,000-mile ballistic missile in operation by July.

The Army added that Russia would have "a very limited" capability at that time. There was no elaboration in the published testimony, but this presumably meant that the Russians would not have very many of the missiles at the start.

The testimony was given by Maj. Gen. Dwight E. Beach, Army deputy chief of staff, to the House Armed Services committee last Thursday. A censored transcript was published today.

A Limited Capability
At one point, Beach was asked by Rep. William E. Hess (R-Ohio) when the United States expects Russia to have an ICBM in operation. The date in Beach's reply was deleted, but the following exchange was not:

Hess: "July of this year?"
Beach: "That is right."
Later, Beach said Russia's "first capability...and it would be a very limited one, would be in July of this year."

The committee also was told by Army witnesses that Russia is expected to have its 1,500-mile, intermediate range ballistic missile in operation this year.

The United States has been testing both ICBMs and IRBMs. The first IRBMs are expected to be put into operation next December, but the ICBMs are not as far advanced.

The House Committee questioned Army witnesses about the Nike-Zeus anti-missile missile program of defense. Testimony published earlier said that, with a speed up, the Army believes it might establish a defense against ballistic missiles by 1962.

The Army has been ordered to develop the Nike-Zeus, while the Air Force will concentrate on the complex electronic network needed to detect and track enemy missiles.

Bagdad Pact Group Irons Out Snags

By WILBUR G. LANDREY

United Press Staff Correspondent

ANKARA, Turkey (UP) — The Baghdad Pact ministers ironed out a last minute snag over Palestine today and signed a final communiqué hailing Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' answer to the Soviet economic offensive in the Middle East.

The ministers ended a four-day session at which Dulles' promises of aid appeared to have saved the Baghdad Pact conference from the brink of failure.

The last minute snag was reported to have developed when Iraq—an Arab nation and a bitter foe of Israel—demanded that the Palestine question be included. Iraq wants Israel to retreat to its boundaries outlined in the United Nations.

Points mentioned in the communiqué included:
"Communist imperialism has increased its efforts to dominate the Middle East" since last summer. But it said the pact itself had "developed a strong and cohesive organization representing the best hope for the safeguarding of peace, liberty and independence in the area."

Praise of Turkey for "standing up against Soviet pressure, threats and false accusations" when Moscow opened up a propaganda campaign against Ankara last fall, charging that Turkish troops were poised for an invasion of Syria.

The pact nations will hold combined staff training exercises "in the near future."

College Head Joins Radio Free Europe

JONESBORO (UP) — The head of the Arkansas State College social science department is en route to Munich, Germany, to join the staff of Radio Free Europe.

Dr. Richard E. Starr was granted a leave of absence from the school so he could accept the assignment. He will organize a propaganda analysis department for RFE to evaluate reaction of target country listeners.

Starr has worked with the Central Intelligence Agency and the U. S. State Department. He is a specialist on Russia and Eastern Europe.

Third Driver Signs for Memorial Race

INDIANAPOLIS (UP) — Jerry Unser Jr., of Long Beach, Calif., has been named to ride in his first Memorial Day Indianapolis 500-mile auto classic. Unser was named to ride a car owned by Tony Gephards of Los Angeles and Henry V. Duncan Jr. of Compton, Calif. His signing makes three drivers thus far for the 32nd annual race.

He offered this definition of a demagogue: "A person who rocks the boat himself so as to persuade everybody that there's a terrible emergency that there's a terrible storm on the water."

Stimulation is the key word to beauty for the mature woman, whether it applies to a facial cream, exercise or hair care. This attractive woman puts the word into practice when she uses a cream (left) which stimulates local circulation, tightens slack contours and smoothes the skin surface. She applies it with upward and outward strokes. To both stay young and look young, she works exercise into her daily routine. Here, she uses a beauty stretch device (center) which is actually an elasticized rope that helps to whip up circulation and tone the muscles. The mature woman must give her hair extra care. A daily workout with a hairbrush, softening shampoos and color tint rinses all help to keep her hair pretty and alive-looking. A fine, non-sticky hair spray (right) keeps hair ends in place and helps to prevent dullness.

DOROTHY DIX

Silent Daughter Upsets Her Talkative Mother

Dear Dorothy Dix: Seemingly, I have everything in the world to make me happy — a marvelous husband, good children, a lovely home, yet my heart is breaking over my oldest daughter's behavior. She's an honor student in school, perfectly behaved outside, but she simply won't confide in me. During her growing-up years I had looked forward so much to the time when she'd be of dating age, and would come home after every dance all ready for a comfy woman's talk. She hasn't developed that way at all. She's quiet keeps things to herself and never indulges in chit-chat with me. I have always been a friendly, sociable person and love to talk things over. I need the companionship of friendly people and have especially wanted the confidence of my only daughter. Can you suggest a way of handling her?

IRENE C.

Dear Irene: I certainly can, but you won't like my suggestion, and may even be constitutionally unable to follow it. It's simply this: Let the girl alone! Quit trying to pry into her thoughts and check up on all she does. Respect her privacy!

Recognize the fact that your daughter isn't necessarily a pattern of yourself. She's what nature made her — just as you are. You are the gabby type; she's not. With naturally silent people speech comes hard. Expression of inner, personal feelings is difficult, even when they want to confide in someone. A girl can't turn out the contents of her mind as you would empty a purse.

This is your oldest child; you have three others growing up. Learn how to let each offspring be an individual and needn't follow parental tastes or habits. This is something to which every parent must adjust. If the child-parent relationship is to be a good one,

Dear Dorothy Dix: Roy and I have been dating for a year and we expect to marry when we finish school, which will be in June. He promised me a diamond for Christmas, but when the 25th of December rolled around he gave me a string of pearls instead, with no explanation for his change of heart. He has never spoken of the ring again, neither have I. Do you think he's trying to back out of the wedding plans?

CHRISTINE
Dear Christine: If he's a smart boy, he is certainly backing down on marriage. You're both too young and Roy has no plans for his future. Instead of puzzling your poor brain over this, why not come out in the open and ask him why he changed his mind, and what he feels about your future together.

Dear Hopeless: It's difficult to make a girl understand that she married a kind, soft-hearted man because she loved him that way, then suddenly she wants him to become stony toward his own family. You can't have things two ways. Perhaps your husband is too generous with time and money toward his family — I can't pass judgment, not knowing enough details. If you feel he should taper off, approach the matter slowly; don't expect a sudden or complete change. Explain that he's just so much money; you need certain things and the rest he can do with what he wants. If there just isn't any "rest" he'll have to learn to see that, too.

2.6 Million Chicks Started in State

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — Arkansas producers started 2,600,000 broiler chicks during the week ending last Saturday, according to the Crop Reporting Service.

The figure was eight per cent above the previous week. Of the total placements, 1,950,000 chicks were hatched in Arkansas and 740,000 were sent in from other states. A total of 392,000 broiler chicks was shipped out of Arkansas, and 3,440,000 eggs for broiler chicks was set during the week, up three per cent from the week before.

LAFAYETTE COACH QUILTS

EASTON, Pa. (UP) — Steve Holzer, Lafayette College head football coach, has resigned after a six-year tenure to seek an administrative position in teaching. Under his direction the school team scored 23 wins and 27 defeats. He is 47 years old and holds a doctorate in education.

The "big six" diseases of U. S. vegetable crops in 1957 were cucumber mosaic, lettuce yellows, tomato early blight, tomato blossom end rot, cabbage club root, and bean blight. These are the findings of the New York State College of Agriculture at Cornell University.

marks ($2,310,652,300) and they will be spent," he said.

Britain is demanding 50 million pounds sterling (104 million dollars) for the upkeep of its 60,000-man Rhine army in the next financial year, while France submitted a claim to the NATO council Wednesday for the upkeep of its troops on German soil.

"They will get a 'No' from us, too," Strauss said, commenting on the French demand.

Players Give
Okay to New
Vote Plan

By UNITED PRESS
Major league ball players reacted favorably today to a new All-Star vote plan that puts them on the spot and the fans in the role of "second-guessers."

Gabe Paul, general manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs, predicted the vote eventually "will be returned to the fans" but other members were unanimously in favor of Commissioner Ford Frick's decision. Frick announced Thursday that the 1958 All-Star teams will be picked by a poll of managers, coaches and players because of the "farce" created in last year's fan balloting.

"It's my opinion, after the new plan receives a thorough trial, the results will require the devising of a method to return the selections to the fans," said Paul. "I'm sorry to see the game taken away from the fans; it belongs to them."

"It's a good system," Bragan said flatly. "If anybody can make a just selection for a valid All-Star team it should be done that way. I think the public would probably recognize the quality will be there."

"It'll result in stronger lineups," commented Murtaugh. "The National League always wants to win that game real bad. That's why the players will vote for the strongest possible team to represent."

Durelle to Try Hinnant Tonight

NEW YORK (UP)—Light-heavyweight contender Yvon Durelle will try to avenge his only defeat in a year tonight in a return TV fight with Clarence Hinnant at Madison Square Garden.

Their 10-rounder will be televised and broadcast nationally by RNC at 10 p.m. e.s.t.

Battling is at "even money" although lanky Hinnant of Washington, D. C., stopped the muscular Canadian fisherman in the eighth round at Miami Beach last Feb. 26 because of a cut eye.

Since then Durelle of Baie Ste. Anne, N. B., was unbeaten in 11 starts although held to a draw by Tony Anthony at Detroit, June 14. Yvon, 28, is now ranked third among 175-pound contenders. Hinnant, 24, is rated eighth.

Hinnant accepted the match on less than a week's notice when fourth-ranked Tony Anthony was wedded by the flu at his training camp.

U. S. Olympic Ski Team to Be Selected

BAD GASTEIN, Austria (UP)—After several weeks of careful observation Coach Othmar Schneider today will pick the U.S. men's team for the world ski championships which get underway Sunday.

No matter who is finally picked, the brunt of the U.S. load will be carried by Buddy Werner of Steamboat Springs, Colo., and Tom Corcoran of Westfield, N.J., and New York City. Schneider already has said that his two aces will compete in all three events staged here—the slalom, giant slalom and downhill.

Max Marolt of Aspen, Colo., who spained an ankle in the Hahnenkamm Trophy races at Kitzbuehel earlier this month, is still bothered by the injury and more than likely will be passed up.

Schneider has his pick among Werner, Corcoran, Dave Gorsuch of Cimarron, Colo., Marvin Melville of Salt Lake City, and Marvin Moriarty of Stowe, Vt.

Meanwhile, the American women's team was named Wednesday by Coach Pepi Gabel named Sally Deaver of Philadelphia, Betsy Soite of Norwich, Vt., Linda Myers of Bishop, Calif., and Madge Springer Miller of Stowe, Vt., for the slalom and giant slalom.

New Coach at Utah Ponders on Formation

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (UP)—Ray Nagel, a student of two of college football's finest coaches, hasn't decided what type of formation he will use when he assumes the reins as head coach at the University of Utah.

The 30-year-old UCLA assistant was named to the top Utah position late Thursday by the university board of regents over two other candidates, both from the state of Utah—Andy Everett and Tally Stevens. Everett is now an assistant at Utah and Stevens, a graduate of Utah, is an assistant at nearby Brigham Young University.

Nagel will receive a salary of $12,000 per year. He succeeds Jack Curcio, who recently accepted the head job at Stanford University. Curcio's resignation is effective March 1.

Nagel will come to Utah with a wealth of experience under two of the nation's finest head coaches—Red Sanders of UCLA and Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma. Sanders coaches the single wing, and Wilkinson is an expert with the split-T.

Nagel also has some professional football experience as player-coach for the Chicago Cardinals. But he said here Thursday he hadn't decided what formation he would use because he hasn't been able to evaluate his talent. However, he will have one of the best formations in college football next fall in Lee Grosscup.

Nagel said he wanted to bring two men from UCLA as his assistants, but he did not name them. His decision may depend on who Curcio takes with him to Stanford.

At present, the Utah assistants besides freshman coach Everett are Karl Schleeman, line coach; Pete Carlson, end coach; and Clarence Simpson and Press Summerhays, backfield coaches.

Nagel played at UCLA from 1946 to 1948 as quarterback and tailback and was with the Cardinals in 1953. He served as assistant to Wilkinson before going to work for Sanders at UCLA.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UP)—Bob Gordon, Tennessee tailback, has signed to play professional football with the Chicago Cardinals next season. Frank Ivy, the Cardinals' new head coach, signed Gordon personally Thursday.

Hope Bobkittens, Liberty Junior boys and Emmet Junior girls gained the finals of the Emmet Junior Invitational tournament, in play last night. Spring Hill Junior girls had already advanced to the finals with victories over Bodcaw 36-22 and Bradley 32-20.

Hoffa Signs Deal With Car Transporters

DETROIT (UP)—International Teamsters President James R. Hoffa, fresh from "successful" negotiations with the Automobile Transporters Assn., said today various teamsters leaders are joining other unions so they can continue their activities in state and local AFL organizations.

Hoffa and teamster negotiators reached agreement Wednesday night on a contract with 74 auto and truck transport firms that haul and drive vehicles to dealers in 32 states. Hoffa said "we got what we expected to get" in the settlement that closely followed the pattern set by the central states negotiations concluded in Chicago last month.

The agreement calls for numerous fringe benefits and a 10 per cent hour wage boost in new contracts starting March 1. Some 15,000 teamsters covered by the contracts will also get seven cent an hour increase each year for 1939 and 1940 plus a half cent per mile hike in the mileage allowance for each of the three contract years.

"They argued for three days but finally fell right into the pattern," Hoffa said.

"He denied the teamsters planned to 'block' national AFL-CIO attempts to complete the merger of local AFL and CIO organizations by having officials join other unions."

"Some local teamsters leaders now hold responsible positions in state, county or city federation organizations," Hoffa said. "They are joining other unions so they can continue their work in the federation."

"Teamsters official William Lee, for instance," Hoffa said, "is president of the Chicago AFL. He has become a member of the International Buildings Service Union and several other teamsters are doing the same thing."

The teamsters were expelled from the AFL-CIO last month.

Benjamin Franklin was the only American who signed the four fundamental documents of American freedom: Declaration of Independence, a treaty of alliance with France, treaty of peace with Britain, and Constitution of the United States.

Backstairs About the White House

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press White House Writer

WASHINGTON (UP)—Backstairs at the White House: Former President Truman might be interested to know that his old bowling alley with the automatic pin-setters still is in good White House service.

The alleys, given to Truman when he was in the White House by a group of friends, were removed from the basement of the west wing of the White House some time ago and transferred to the old State Department building. White House police have an active league of keepers playing on the alleys these days.

Every recent President seems to have left some sort of recreational legacy at the White House. Coolidge introduced the electric horse and a later model still is in the presidential gym. The swimming pool came in with FDR and a putting green was installed on the south grounds for the use of President Eisenhower. One little-used facility is the White House tennis court which dates back well beyond the Coolidge era.

Arthur Eisenhower, the President's brother who died this week, was an amazing story of self-made success. He left high school two years before graduation. He started work in 1905 as a $3-a-week messenger boy for the Commerce Trust Co. of Kansas City and worked up to the high-ranking post of executive vice president in 1934.

Arthur was intensely proud of the fact that in 50 years of work at the bank, he was not away from his desk a single day because of illness.

Weather in Florida Brings a New Crisis

By LOUIS CASSELL
United Press Staff Correspondent

Bad weather in south Florida has created a new crisis for one of the oldest and least-known "home missions" of American churches.

Alternate rains and freezes have severely damaged Florida's winter crop of fruits and vegetables. This is a hard blow to the growers. It is sheer catastrophe for 15,000 migratory farm workers and their families who are now stranded in the state, with no hope of finding work before spring plantings are ready for harvest about March 15.

Emergency help is being mobilized to relieve their desperate plight—at least to the extent of preventing actual starvation. State and county agencies, civic clubs, business firms and private individuals are cooperating. Some surplus food from federal stocks has been made available.

In the midst of this effort, armed with few resources, besides a tremendous determination to help the migrants, is an interdenominational church organization called the Migrant Ministry.

The Migrant Ministry was founded in 1920 by church women of 21 Protestant denominations. It now operates in 31 states, under the agencies of the Home Missions Division of the National Council of Churches.

Lives Spent in Poverty

Its mission is to minister to the material, educational and spiritual needs of about 1,500,000 men, women and children who "follow the crops." These migrant laborers have been called "the forgotten of America's forgotten families." Their lives are spent in almost incredible poverty and squalor.

During the cold months, they congregate in southern tier states like Florida, Arizona and Texas, where there are winter crops to be harvested. In spring they move north in three streams of battered vehicles—one heading up the East Coast into New Jersey and New York, another through the Midwest to the Canadian border; and a third up the West Coast through California.

They live in whatever shelter they can find, sheds, barns, tarpaper shacks, occasionally the comparative luxury of a migrant barracks. They travel in worn out cars, or herd together like cattle in "crew trucks."

Deprived of Services

Because they cannot comply with residence requirements for public aid, migrants are often deprived of medical care and welfare services. Their illness and death rates are much higher than the average population. Sixty per cent of them are illiterate. The average family income, in a good year, with everyone including the children working in the fields is about $1,000.

The Migrant Ministry tries to help them in several ways. It organizes public and private aid for them when they are destitute—as they are in Florida now. It conducts literacy classes to teach adults and older children how to read road markers and sign their names. It operates child care centers where very young children can be left while their mothers are in the fields (instead of being left in boxes between the rows, or locked in overheated cars in the broiling sun.)

It also provides worship services, conducted from altars mounted on the tailgates of station wagons. The ministry now has 30 of these moving station wagons called "harvesters," each manned by a specially-trained chaplain who is the modern version of the circuit-riding preacher of pioneer days.

Miss Edith Lowry, national director, estimated that the Migrant Ministry is currently reaching about 10 per cent of the total migratory labor population.

British to Seek Summer Meet
LONDON (UP)—Diplomatic sources today reported Britain will suggest calling a summit conference to convene by mid-summer.

The East-West conference would be attended by the four major powers—Russia, Britain, France and the United States.

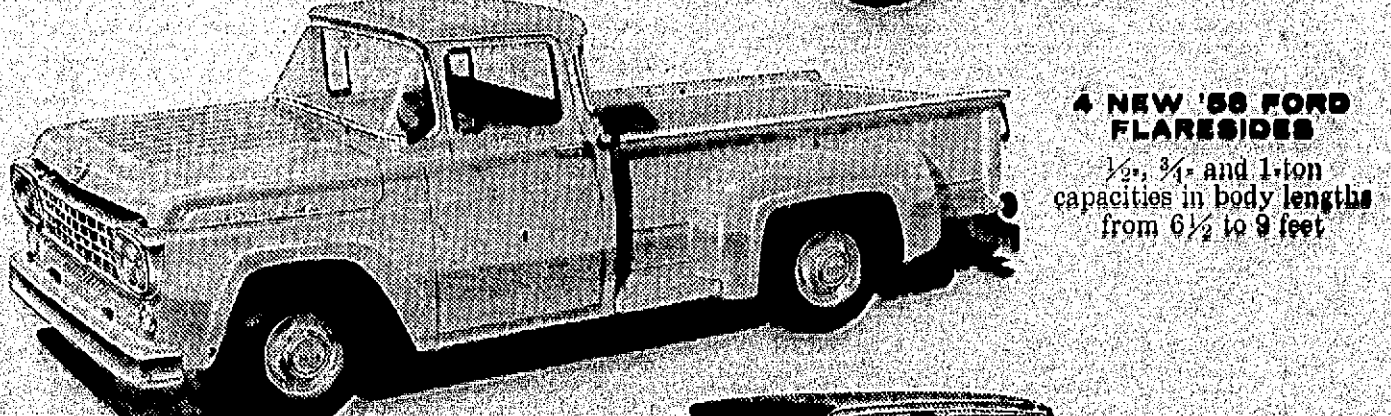

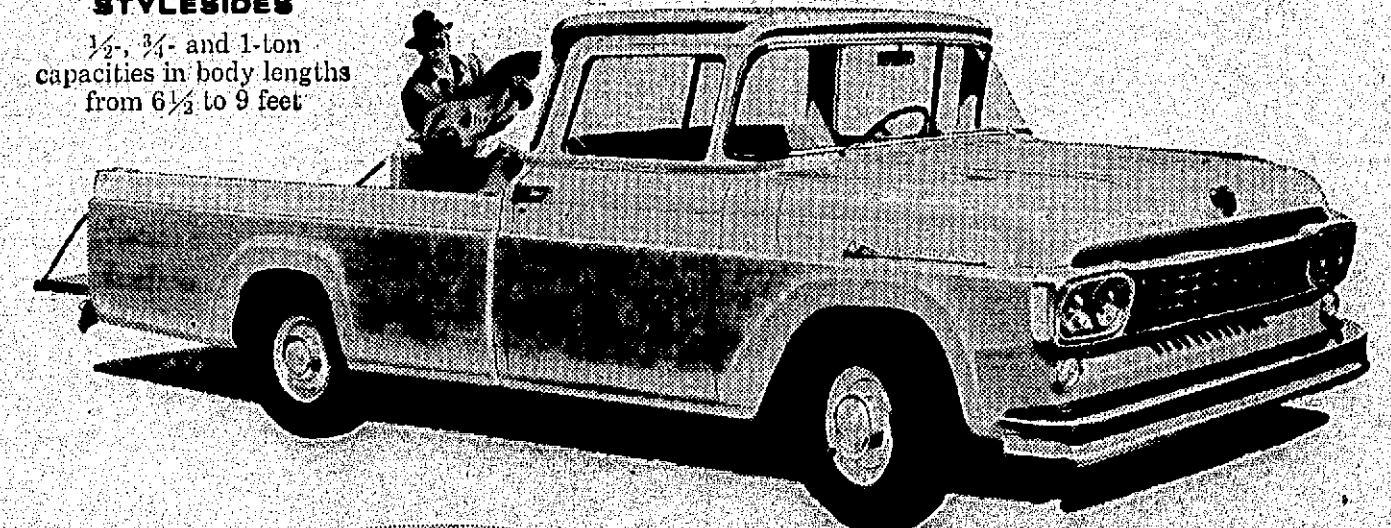

The sources said Britain is consulting with the United States and European allies in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization on the final form of a new note to the Russians.

They said the note will deal specifically with the theme of the proposed top-level conference.
